COMMUNICATION & MEDIA

Hometainment trend is linked to the growing at-home consumption, as a replacement of not being able to go to bars during the lockdown. A new way to drink and socialize has moved to our homes, consumers want to take control of the preparation process, reproducing in-house the bar environment and use new gadgets to create beverages at home. The pandemic crisis has undoubtedly spread and accelerated this movement and the RTD (Ready to Drink) sector has benefitted from it, with lots of new brands hitting the market with the launch of alcoholic alternatives in cans (Hard Seltzers, Canned cocktails and Hard coffee/tea).

The introduction of Skinny Can in the market represents an excellent opportunity and solution to approach brands and conquer new customers. This shape reproduces a real slim can 33cl, with the purpose to serve, in a funny way, RTDs, cocktails, soda, beer or juice. Due to its straight walls, this tumbler is ideal for decoration projects, becoming an exceptional item for offers and promotions, both in B2B or Retail.

COMMUNICATION & MEDIA

The Cheers range has a distinctive modern vintage design, reminding the traditional cut glasses, very popular in the 1st half of the 20th century. This timeless shape can be associated to the 1940's and 50's, the classic period of American Noir Movies, with its typical post-war crime melodramas. Extravagant yet luxurious plots, featuring some of the most iconic Hollywood stars, playing the role of dangerous gangsters or mysteriously seductive vamps, often filmed smoking a cigar and holding a glass of whisky.

Perfectly matching the current fashion for vintage chic pieces, these tumblers are elegant yet versatile glasses. The DOF suits a simple whisky on the rocks, as good as it wears a classic Old Fashioned cocktail. Besides cocktails, the new High Ball is also perfect to serve mocktails and even soft drinks with ice.

The big clear area on the upper part of the glasses, make them ideal for decoration purposes in the B2B market.

COMMUNICATION & MEDIA

Libbey reintroduces the 'Modern America' range with pride. This range is a revival of the company's historical 'Modern America' range, inspired by America's first fine handcrafted glass.

Libbey's historical 'Modern America' range wore the signature of the American designer, Edwin W. Fuerst. This range was first created in an era of transformation, coinciding with the last years of the Art Deco period, the first World's Fair, the II World War and the end of fine completely handcrafted glass by Libbey, (due to the conversion to the war effort).

The stemware comes in five different shapes: the Coupe, Wine/Cocktail, Nick&Nora, Gin&Tonic and Martini. The tall & bold stem along with the sturdy foot portray the Art Deco Buildings (Empire State Building and Chrysler Building) which have become unmissable landmarks in New York City. The sleek and curvaceous silhouette of the bowl make these glasses the perfect choice when serving and sipping exquisite liquors, wines and cocktails.

COMMUNICATION & MEDIA

Libbey reintroduces the 'Modern America' range with pride. This range is a revival of the company's historical 'Modern America' range, inspired by America's first fine handcrafted glass.

Libbey's historical 'Modern America' range wore the signature of the American designer, Edwin W. Fuerst. This range was first created in an era of transformation, coinciding with the last years of the Art Deco period, the first World's Fair, the II World War and the end of fine completely handcrafted glass by Libbey, (due to the conversion to the war effort). These were gloomy years, but it was in this period that the people began to revive and refocus on the essentials. All of this together makes 'Modern America' an iconic and meaningful range.

Libbey has reinvented this iconic range to meet the demands of today's customers. The tumblers come in four different shapes and sizes: the Collins, Rocks, DOF and High-ball. The tumblers robust and detailed base upholds the curved bottom and thick walls of the glass, ending in a slightly open rim. These tumblers are ideal for all types of drinks (except hot drinks).

These glasses have DuraTuff treatment which results in remarkably durable glassware with prolonged service life.

COMMUNICATION & MEDIA

The craft beer movement is growing into a worldwide phenomenon. Europe's increasing demand for special types like Trappist, IPA's, Porters or Wheat beer, is pushed by the multitude of flavors and styles that makes it an intellectual beverage.

In response, Libbey has expanded its beer glass offering with the launch of a new 44cl stemware, perfect for iconic Belgian classic beers such as Trappist, Tripel, Dubbel and Flemish Red.

Belgium's brewing culture dates back to at least the 12th century, when the Church granted monasteries permission to brew and distribute beer as a source of income. Trappist beer, originating in the Cistercian Abbey of La Trappe, in 1685, was brewed mainly in France and Belgium.

To this day, to be officially recognized as a Trappist beer brewing must be done within the monastery's walls. Sadly, the French Revolution, two World Wars and changing times took their toll, and there are now only 11 official Trappist breweries left, 6 of them in Belgium.

Today, with over 200 breweries and a dozen different styles, Belgian beer is on UNESCO's list of intangible cultural heritage of humanity.

Despite mass market beer has been slowly going down, experiencing a shift towards the increasingly popular Craft Beer, traditional beer styles still represent the majority of global beer consumption.

Beer mugs are quite popular, especially in central European countries, such as Austria or Czech Republic or Germany, where beer is normally served in large beer mugs/tankards.

Although more frequently used to serve traditional Pilsner beer, beer mugs can accommodate all beer styles.

Its thick walls helps insulate the beer, keeping it cool longer, while the handle helps to prevent hands from inadvertently warming it up.

The handle is also an added feature when toasting with friends. In fact, the name of the range is directly linked to this use, as “PROST” is the German word for “cheers”.

The straight walled design of this range, make it ideal for decoration purposes in the B2B market.

Commercial size addition to the existing family

Bulk Carton / 12

LibbeyGlass.Europe

COMMUNICATION & MEDIA

The Gats was the winning concept of the second edition of the Glassology Design Contest. Creator Yochen Verbeeck from Belgium enchanted the judges with his great story and beautiful creation. The Gats was inspired by three different sources. First of all the golden age of Art Deco – seen in the smooth, curved lines and polished surface. But Yochen was also inspired by “The Great Gatsby”, F. Scott Fitzgerald’s landmark novel set in the glamorous Roaring Twenties in New York – captured in the elegant and stylish details: mysterious and understated, just like Gatsby, the novel’s hero. A third source of inspiration came from a vase that was always filled with fresh flowers in the house of Yochen’s grandmother.

The whole range offers three different shapes: the Rocks, Hi-Ball and DOF (new). The DOF, with a capacity of 35.5CL, is a new shape and therefore a range extension of this Art Deco inspired range.

The new DOF comes in a commercial size of 35.5CL. It’s perfect for all kinds of drinks.

flavors of any beer style (ale,

Convex shape with narrow rim

0,3L and 0,4L

COMMUNICATION & MEDIA

The Arôme range has been extended also to the beer segment. The convex shape of the bowl has been carefully design to allow the aromatic complexity of any beer to stand out and it's narrower opening helps to concentrate the foam on the top of the glass.

Because its unique design is equally suited to opening out the flavors and aromas of special beers, we have now developed two new stemware capacities (37cl and 49cl). Matching the uprising Craft Beer movement, these elegant glasses can easily accommodate all types of beer, from the regular ales (top fermenting) and lagers (bottom fermenting) to the far less popular lambics (wild fermented).

This range already includes a snifter glass, perfect for spirit tastings, and two larger stemware (60cl and 67cl), great for mixed spirits. Now there's also a new Arôme DOF size, ideal for whisky, bourbon or other spirits on the rocks.
